Burglaries Being Investigated Here

A series of burglaries is being investigated by the Sheriff and City officials this week.

Sheriff Ladner stated that the Nicholson Avenue summer home of Walter Allen, New Orleans, was entered into during the absence of the Allens between September 14 and 17.

When they returned Sept. 17, they found the screen on the back door and one on a back window broken and the window pried open. Nothing was reported taken from the home, but, according to Sheriff Ladner, food and drinks had been consumed. He further added that finger prints found on the premises had led to a suspect.

Sheriff Ladner, assisted by City Police Alton Sauter and Jack Ladner investigated the burglary of the J. B. Ventura home at 169 Felicity Street and the Fred Twickler home at 161 Felicity. Entry into the Ventura home, which was through a kitchen window after the screen had been cut, occurred sometime between Sept. 17 and 20.

Food and soft drinks were the only items reported stolen. Entry into the Twickler residence was made in practically the same way. Nothing was reported missing.

Ladner and Deputy Raul Teliard investigated the theft of a 60016 wheel and tire from the tar kettle machine belonging to the county. The machine was stored in the county barn at Nicholson Avenue when the theft occurred September 18.

Deputy Carl Garcia reported a wheel and tire was taken from a car belonging to J. D. Green. Green, a bridge tender for the L&N Railroad, parked his car on Toulum Street near the Railroad crossing when he left for work at 12 p. m. Sept. 22. On his return the following morning at 8, he discovered the theft.

According to Sheriff Ladner, a 14 foot Bowman hull with a 35 H. P. Johnson motor, anchored in Jordan River in the vicinity of Col. McCaleb's home, was stolen between 10 p. m. Sept. 20 and 21. Two life preservers, a pair of water skis, a pair of oars, a six gallon gas tank and a box of tools were also taken. Colonel Alfred F. McCaleb, owner, discovered the boat had been stolen when he

DEDICATION OF WINDOW DONATED BY EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Dedication of the Good Shepherd window given to the Glory of God and in Thanksgiving for all that the Reverend Warwick Alken meant to Christ Episcopal Church and the community will be held Sunday September 28.

Rev. Alken was minister in charge of Christ Church for a period of ten years prior to its becoming a Parish.

While serving in this Mission he became critically ill, but later regained his health. In thanksgiving for his recovery the congregation of Christ Church at that time contributed to a fund to place a window as a tribute to him, however, before completion of the project he was called to be rector of Christ Church in Vicksburg, Miss.

At the time of Mr. Alken's departure from here the mission church had become self-supporting and was ready to become a parish.

For two years following, before a rector was appointed, the members of Christ Church were served faithfully by Lay Readers trained by Rev. Alken.

So typical of the Good Shepherd was his life among his congregation, this subject was chosen for the window.

The Reverend Alken will deliver a sermon at the 11 a. m. Sunday service.

A reception at the Parish house honoring him and Mrs. Alken will immediately follow the service.

Rev. Alken who is retired, and Mrs. Alken are now making their home in Memphis, Tenn.

Advice From State Board Of Health Disease Control

If you want to be protected against influenza, plans for immunization should be made now. That's the advice coming from the State Board of Health's Preventable Disease Control.

"After cases of influenza appear, the rush for immunization creates extra problems and many other cases occur before immunizations can provide protection," said Dr. Durward L. Blakey, the director of the Preventable Disease Control.

All ages are susceptible to influenza, but many individuals fall into what Dr. Blakey terms "high risk groups". These include pregnant women, young children, the chronically ill, the aged and occupational groups, such as hospital staff, industries and service organizations where sudden high altitudes would cause severe consequences.

"Physicians should be consulted as to the advisability of immunizations in individual cases," urged Dr. Blakey. "Occupational groups, including industry, should decide with the advice of their physician whether to protect the group or not."

Dr. Blakey pointed out that the vaccines available are in good supply and contain the strains of virus known to be causing the recent influenza, including the recent Asian strain. Two doses are required, given about two weeks apart. Within 14 days after taking the second injection, a measurable amount of protection is present.

While a massive recurrence of influenza like that of last year is not expected during the coming fall and winter, Dr. Blakey said that the usual seasonal incidence could be greatly reduced by early immunization.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD P. SIMMONS
Hancock County Agent

HARVESTING AND STORING CORN

Harvest your corn early, but not before it is dry enough for safe storage. This means: for dry corn pulled by hand, 18 percent or less moisture; for storage in tight cribs or bins, 15 percent or less moisture. For mechanical pickers, harvest the full crop at 18 percent moisture or below for safe storage.

If you are using picker shellers or combine picker heads, the machine will do a better job at a higher moisture content. But drying equipment will be needed if shelled corn is harvested above 14 percent moisture for safe storage.

Harvest your corn clean. Don't pull corn by hand. Snap it free of stalks, stems and faulty ears. This is, especially important if you are going to sell your corn. Most corn is bought on a shelled corn basis and trash will lower the shelling capacity, waste corn, and lower the grade.

Harvest your corn safely. Don't reach into the harvesting machinery until the machine is completely stopped. Be sure to use the operator's manual in adjusting the machinery and observe all safety rules.

It will probably pay you to store your corn for a while instead of selling it at harvest time for lower prices. The average price of corn in the Spring has been around 30 cents a bushel higher than at harvest time for the past 10 years.

The cost of storing corn from fall harvest to Spring is usually less than 10 cents a bushel above harvest time prices.

If you store your corn and feed it to livestock on your farm, it might be worth as much as $2.00 a bushel to you.

If you are going to store shelled corn on your farm, it might also pay you to have drying facilities.

Your corn is carrying an extra cost if it is not in good condition.

Although practically plentiful in most cases, corn is a tough and as well as a grain as well as a grain.

The only way to die them is to die them in a month or so, lambing time. The place them in a short tender grower.

Many producers are able to feed protein per acre 45 days before.

If the corn may pay 30 cents a pound and the legume hay will way toward condition.

Follow this until small grain able.

New Operation for Parkinsonism

Mississippi, Miss., has been the scene of a new operation for Parkinsonism, a disease which causes the muscles to tremble and shake. The operation was performed by Dr. J. H. Hill, who has been successful in treating many cases of this disease. The operation is a new one, and it is hoped that it will be successful in many more cases. The operation is performed on the brain, and it is a very delicate one. It is performed by making a small incision in the skull, and then using a special instrument to remove the part of the brain which is causing the tremor. The operation is performed under a microscope, and it is a very difficult one. It is hoped that it will be successful in many more cases.

Mississippi's Tourist Business

Mississippi's tourist business is showing a major new trend in the tourist business. This was the observation in Jackson of Howard P. Hill, executive manager of the Mississippi Automobile Club, an affiliate of the American Automobile Association. Mr. Hill, who has just returned from a survey of travel potential in New York and the East, declared that "Mississippi must 'hook up' now if it is to tap a vast, expanding tourist market." He pointed out that the recent trend toward the use of credit cards by tourists is putting more and more tourists on the highways searching out points of interest and recreation. Mississippi, he said, is in need of upgrading its facilities for tourists and of constructing modern new hotel and motel units along with food service facilities. Observing that the fall and winter tourist season is at hand, Mr. Hill emphasized the necessity for Mississippi to act at once to capture its share of this lucrative trade.

Threats to Democracy

The Mississippi "Dollars for Democracy" office in Jackson has announced that James H. Ray, a member of the House of Representatives, has accepted the invitation of the Mississippi Democratic Party to be its guest and speak at the $20.00 per plate testimonial dinner to be held at the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson on October 5, at 8 p. m. Senator James O. Eastland stated that "Speaker Rayburn is a great American, a great man and one of the most powerful men in the country. We are certainly glad to have him in Mississippi." Congressman Frank Smith stated, "Mississippi Democrats are indeed fortunate in being able to secure as their speaker the country's leading Democrat and one of the world's prominent and beloved statesmen."

Construction Contracts

July contracts for future construction in Mississippi amounted to $21,180,000, an increase of eight per cent from July, 1957. A breakdown of contracts by the major construction categories in July, compared to the like month of 1957, showed: non-residential at $7,186,000, up 25 per cent; residential at $8,244,000, up 16 per cent; and heavy engineering at $5,750,000, down nine per cent.

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Bay St. Louis during the week of October 5 to 11. Postmaster Andy J. Becker announced today. Twenty-one years ago, realizing the importance of written communication, the Postoffice Department joined in the observance of an annual letter writing week—an event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a link between people throughout the world. Postmaster Becker explained that by participation in both International Letter Writing Week and National Letter Writing Week this worthwhile objective is promoted between all peoples everywhere. "As we all know so well," Mr. Becker said, "a personal letter is next to an actual visit, the most intimate means we have to communicate with our fellow-human beings. Letters between citizens and between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings. "I urge all citizens of Bay St. Louis to join in this celebration of International Letter Writing Week. And at the same time, don't overlook your friends and relatives in America. Write them a letter too!"

American Legion Auxiliary Notes

The Junior Group of the American Legion Auxiliary held their regular meeting September 17, at the Legion Home with Miss Margaret Moreau presiding and assisted by Mrs. Pat Pitale Senior, chairman. The meeting opened with the presentation of colors, pledge of Allegiance and prayer. Junior secretary Melva Lee Luke read the minutes of the previous meeting and Lyndall Schindler gave the treasurer's report. All Junior members with uniforms are asked to meet with Mrs. Edwin Necaise on Citizen St. each Saturday at 1:00 p. m. to drill. Plans are being formulated for the Junior's Christmas party. Details to be announced at a later date. Junior members have been invited to march in the Veterans Day Parade. Senior members attending the meeting were Mrs. Pitale, Mrs. Marion Beal, Mrs. Lucas Pucheu, Mrs. Gilbert Gayant, Mrs. Erwin Necaise, Miss Cecile Turcotte. Hostesses for the special hour were Mrs. Louis Moreau, Mrs. Emilie Manier, Mrs. Gordon Romanoff. The table was covered with a pink cloth. Pink frosted petit fours, fruit punch and cups of candy nuts were served to the guests by the hostesses.

STATE FAIR PROGRAM FULL OF ENTERTAINMENT

Mississippians of all ages are in for six fun-filled days starting Monday, October 6, when once again the Mississippi State Fair opens in Jackson. Continuing through Saturday, October 11, the Fair will offer entertainment, education and excitement for all. In addition to prize-winning livestock, poultry, arts and crafts, and food preservation displays, for the first time, the grandstand show will be a rodeo.

Traffic Accidents Can Be Prevented

Traffic accidents can be prevented, states John C. Underwood, president of the Mississippi State Council, "but the most preventable accident is the one involving an automobile and a pedestrian." "By following a few common-sense safety rules, pedestrians and drivers alike can avoid this type of collision which inevitably kills or maims many." Underwood further stated, "We are particularly alarmed by the report of the Mississippi Highway Patrol that a majority of traffic deaths recorded in September were pedestrians struck and killed by vehicles on the highways." "Pedestrians should always be aware of on-coming driver might control of his vehicle, or the driver might not see him." By the same token, the pedestrian should never assume that a vehicle will move out of his way. Although carelessness is listed as a major cause of this type of traffic accidents, there are many other factors which contribute, such as temporary blindness caused by on-coming headlights at night. Both the pedestrian and the driver must be in a position at all times to allow for these factors which contribute to pedestrian accidents," the citizens' safety council president stated.

STATE WORKING HARD FOR NEW INDUSTRY

Mississippians from the Tennessee border to the Gulf of Mexico are putting up their time, their money and all the salesmanship they can muster to industrialize their state. In Brookhaven, local businessmen took on the job of sending letters to 1,000 industrial prospects by having their secretaries type and mail the letters. Commerce in Louisville held 12 meetings with industrial prospects. The Winston County Chamber of members contributed 1,800 man hours to the conferences. Private citizens, on a local and regional basis, are showing much interest in this respect.

BUILDING for the FUTURE

The start of the 1959 school year also marks the beginning of another 12-month period of activity in the 4-H Club Junior Leadership Program sponsored by our company in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service in the States of Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

Education of young men and women is a top priority in the Junior Leadership Program which is designed to develop the young people's ability to develop those leadership qualities essential to progress and wholesome community life . . . to produce leaders from the ranks of club members . . . and to develop opportunities for service and helpfulness to others.

We of United Gas believe that sponsorship of the 4-H Club Junior Leadership Program is one way in which we can accept our obligation of good corporate citizenship in the Gulf South where our company operates.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

By GLENN CLAY
Home Development Agent
Hancock County

Not many will admit it, but the children are glad to get back to school, aren't they?

EAT A GOOD BREAKFAST

But after the first day or so they begin to hate to get up early in the morning, don't they?

To get up early enough for that good, hearty, hot breakfast that need each morning. It's really important that they eat breakfast, so guess you'll just have to keep prodding them, mother.

It is hard and almost impossible for them to make up at other meals or by between-meal snacks for the food missed at breakfast.

When they omit breakfast, school children are apt to grow restless and inattentive during the late morning hours. Teachers say good breakfast habits result in better attitudes toward school work and higher grades.

"What is an adequate breakfast," you ask. Most nutritionists answer that the basic pattern for the average American today is a meal of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter; and to add eggs and bacon.

In a recent study of breakfasts eaten by Utah school children, more children 5 to 9 years old had adequate breakfasts than those who were older. Poorest breakfast rating for both boys and girls was among the 18 and 20 year old group.

The breakfasts of teen-agers most often needed a food to provide Vitamin C and more milk.

SCHOOL CLOTHING

Along with the problems of breakfast and other meals for school children, goes that of outfitting them with clothes for school.

And here is where careful planning pays off in savings and satisfaction. Careful planning is the secret to a wardrobe of costumes or outfits that go well together instead of a collection of miscellaneous items that never seem quite right.

Take careful stock of clothes on hand. Make necessary alterations of clothes you keep, bring them up-to-date or put them in first-class condition.

Now plan what clothes you need to supplement what you have. Let each member of the family have a part in planning.
